BRICS Doesn't Challenge Rothschild Banking Monopoly

"Far from being the NWO, the West, America included, is the TARGET of the NWO: we need to get destroyed before World Government can come. Of course, the US has long been their main vehicle. But a vehicle easily gets discarded, as the driver acquires a new ride. This new ride is not China, although obviously, they own that place too, but the World Government."

No, not at all is BRICS 'opposition' to Rothschild/The NWO. Not in the least.

Remember: all major Chinese, Japanese, American, and European banks own each other. Money and banking are the same everywhere in the World, which is ridiculous, considering the vast array of monetary systems that are thinkable or have existed. The Bank rules everywhere. And THEY are the NWO, not America.

Have a look at this article I did for you at the time: China is Part of the NWO

This is a key paragraph: " Furthermore, over the last decades, Money Power has migrated a substantial part of its manufacturing base from Europe and particularly the US to China. Can there be any doubt that they would be very, very sure that that crucial strategic asset would be absolutely safe there?"

This is very reminiscent of what Antony Sutton exposed on how Transnational corporations ran the build-up of the Soviet Union in the thirties; it's exactly the same thing.

China, like the USSR, was built up. To fight America.

"Just like the Money Power conducted the European Orchestra during the 19th century, it now directs a Multi-Polar World. We know how it all ended in Europe: tightly knit alliances facing each other with ever more paranoia, unable to extricate themselves from the trap. One assassination was enough to light the fuse. The same can be seen today, with NATO facing the Shanghai Cooperation Organization of Russia and China, with Pakistan and Iran as close associates."

Great premonition, if I do say so myself (this article was from 2013). I've been saying the exact same thing a lot lately, I can't believe I was thinking it already back then.

The West is imploding. We're facing the Greatest Depression as the Debt Bubble is exploding. China and Europe are already in stiff recessions, and America will soon follow too. Already, the masses in the US are facing declining standards of living due to insane housing costs, and heavy food and energy price rises. Far from being the NWO, the West, America included, is the TARGET of the NWO: we need to get destroyed before World Government can come. Of course, the US has long been their main vehicle. But a vehicle easily gets discarded, as the driver acquires a new ride. This new ride is not China, although obviously they own that place too, but World Government.

First, we'll have an absolutely genocidal depression. People really don't fathom how bad it's going to be, but the West will be left in ruins within years once it really hits, which I expect around 2025.

But even much worse: War is coming. I expect it late this decade, most likely early 2029.

Putin's 'Multi Polar' world is the NWO splitting the World in two camps: West and East.

This could be seen as a 'new Cold War', but we won't get lucky. This is MUCH more like Europe in 1914: two huge alliances, ready to go.

And they will go. I expect Russia and China to be aggressors after they smell their chance when the West is destroyed by the Depression.

Wokism will be a great part of it. Many in the West will succumb to it, and I actually suspect it will be the rationale for the Sino-Russian attack.

Remember Pike's letter to Mazzini? Do read it again, it's short and incredibly telling. Besides his predictions concerning WW3, he also states that 'we will foment a social cataclysm, forcing the normal people to destroy the minority of World Revolutionaries.' The West, during the Depression, will see crazy LGBTQ extravagancies. It's already plain to see, but it will escalate terribly.

WW3 will be lost by America (the main target). Russia will attack via the Atlantic; and China via the Pacific. Russia will likely be the main winner and the military enforcer of the coming World Government.

China, I suspect, will also be grievously struck: the US Navy will have a field day with their coastal possessions. For years already I've suspected these ghost cities they built in the West and North of China are to evacuate the coastal areas to. After 50 years of one-child policy, and soon starting monumental demographic collapse in China, it's clear the NWO has no real purpose for 1.3 billion Chinese.

WW3 is what is predicted in Revelation as the Gog & Magog war, which is the key event of the final chapters of Revelation, and the last attempt by the children of the Fallen Angels to dominate mankind."

Let's hope that he is wrong about the coming war

But I suspect that he is correct in his basic analysis

BRICS offers an alternative, but what system or organisation is perfect?
Enjoy the emergence of BRICS. At the moment they focus on trade, not dictating how other nations run their affairs.

I'm doing my best to enjoy them Ned, they certainly SEEM better than our lot in the west.

But this article is a salutary reminder of the very, very, big picture. Anthony Sutton thoroughly exposed the strategy in the mid 20thC, as Migchels says above. And Migchels is an astute financial observer, who is usually pessimistic I admit. But nonetheless his warning is worth bearing in mind. Will the BRICS really overthrow the worlds money power [the reptiles]? Very hard to believe I think

The 2020's does seem to be a pivotal decade and his predictions are absolutely dire aren't they. As I said at the foot of the post then, I hope that he is wrong. But he might not be, we seem to be heading that way don't we. Forewarned is forearmed

Antony C. Sutton. Wonderful man. I have his books.

First step is to remove, replace, create an alternative to the current UN, WEF, BIS, WHO, neocon, NATO, collective West Governments Of Occupation.

Expecting too much too soon risks disappointment. But, holding thoughts of optimism? Why not?

Certainly Mr Migchels isn't an optimist! I've followed him for some time now via his own site at Real Currencies. But he is very knowledgeable about money and currency and power

It seems like the US$ will be replaced before they launch digital world currency. They are scooping countries into the BRICS so they later sacrifice their national currencies and independence same as the EU rid Europe of independent currencies bar one – the £. England should relaunch silver coins and money based on weight before we are lost in the financial slave world of digital control.
